

Eric H. Hoffman
Background
March 2017

Eric Hoffman is CEO of Asia Risk & Insurance Advisors (ARIA), an independent consulting firm based in Seoul that specializes in executive liability and M&A transaction risk mitigation, cost-saving insurance procurement strategies, and risk management outsourcing.

Previously, Eric was with Aon Risk Solutions, Korea where he started managing its foreign investor group in 1998, was later appointed to run the firm's direct insurance brokerage business, and rose to Chief Commercial Officer and Executive Director focusing on growth and operational efficiencies. Prior to his career in Korea, Eric was a senior consultant with Marsh in New York City and Connecticut where he designed, negotiated and managed global insurance programs for large multinationals.

Eric has over 30 years of global risk management experience, is a native of New York and holds a BA in Economics from Lehigh University and an MBA in Finance from Fordham University.