

▪ Speaker Bio

Mr. Jinwook Song, Partner at BKL

Jinwook Song specializes in white collar defenses. Mr. Song has defended clients over 15 years in the investigations and trials of major criminal cases that drew public attention. Based on extensive experience defending cases involving violations of the Occupational Safety and Health Act in large-scale accidents resulting in casualties since 2015, he has successfully handled defense work in investigations related to serious accidents under the Serious Accidents Punishment Act.

As a leading member of BKL's Compliance Practice Group, Mr. Song has recently provided advice on compliance risk assessment, establishment and improvement of corporate internal control system, and compliance training. He also has advised on and conducted corporate internal investigation, through digital forensic technology, to uncover corruption and irregularities as well as trade secret leaks.

Mr. Song earned a LL.B. from Korea University, completed the 33rd Judicial Research and Training Institute course, and earned an LL.M. from Korea University with a master's thesis entitled "Study on the Concepts and Scope of Property Rights." In addition, he earned an LL.M. from University of Southern California Gould School of Law and completed a doctoral course at Korea University Graduate School of Law. He was recognized as the "Best Lawyer in Compliance Management and ESG" by JoongAng Ilbo and the Korean In-house Counsel Association in 2023, and in 2024, he was ranked as a Leading Individual in Dispute Resolution: White-Collar Crime by the Chambers & Partners Asia-Pacific Guide.

