

Susan Yeyoung Ji

Executive Korea Enterprise Growth Market Leader

Susan was promoted to executive position in May 2021 and as representative director in Korea, she is responsible for developing customer relationships and strategic initiatives to create new opportunities and business models. Susan is based in Pangyo, Korea.

In her career at Baker Hughes (formerly GE Oil and Gas before divestiture) since 2010, Susan has successfully led various business development opportunities for oil and gas projects in collaboration with major Korean EPC and energy companies.

Susan started her career as a thermodynamic engineer at the Boeing Integrated Defense Systems HQ in 2004. Upon graduating her MBA, she was a management consultant at the Seoul office of Bain & Company. Subsequently, Susan joined GE Oil and Gas (Energy) which through merger and spin-off became Baker Hughes in 2019.

She holds a bachelor's degree in Mechanical Engineering from MIT, and an MBA from the University of Chicago Booth School of Business.