

Minsung Kim

Head, Government &
Regulatory Affairs,
IBM Korea

Minsung Kim is a public policy and corporate affairs leader who has about 20 years of diverse experience in the government affairs and business field. He is currently leading Government & Regulatory Affairs in Korea, which is IBM's critical function to support its various businesses.

In the field of education, Minsung has been leading IBM P-TECH, which is mentoring and internship program for high school and college students studying AI, created, and managed by IBM, based on cooperations with the Ministry of Education and Gyeonggido Office.

On his previous career, Federation of Korean Industries, he also led educational programs for economy and entrepreneurship to students.

He has been creating an environment favorable to technology and industry, such as artificial intelligence and quantum, etc.

Minsung Kim received master's degree in business administration at Yonsei University in Seoul. He studied public policy at SIPA, Columbia University in New York.