

Joo-Seuk Maing

Global Head of Business Segment SENSE, FIT Voltaira

Joo-Seuk Maing is the Global Head of Business Segment SENSE of FIT Voltaira, a multinational Automotive supplier with Headquarters in Germany. Joo-Seuk is based in Korea and has obtained his Master of Science from the University of Hohenheim (Stuttgart). He has vast experience in the mobility industry with a focus on Automotive, where he spent 17 years with one of the leading German Automotive suppliers, before joining FIT Voltaira as CEO Korea/Vietnam in 2021. Joo-Seuk Maing has vast experience in Asia Pacific as he has spent the past 15 years living in India, Singapore, Japan and South Korea. His focus is on organizational development with a regional setup, modern leadership principles incl. DEI principles and female leadership and working in a complex matrix organization among various stakeholders. He researches and speaks publicly about Asia's role in the 21st century and frequently travels to various destinations in Asia. He regularly facilitates international visitors to South Korea and Asia and continues to learn about modern leadership principles and the magic mix of emotional safety and accountability at the workplace. He has attended numerous conferences like Harvard's HPAIR Conference with focus on Asian and international relations, the Future Leaders Conference (FLC) of Overseas Korea Foundation (OKF) and actively participated in 2021 in the Leadership Reset of GIFT (Global Institute for Tomorrow) with like-minded future APAC leaders. Joo-Seuk Maing is also the Asia Advisor of the University of Rochester-Bern since 2023. Additionally, he contributes to KGCCI's Women In KoRea (WIR) mentorship program supporting the next generation of women leaders.